

WHY CHOOSE PATIOS WHOLESAL

PATIOS WHOLESAL is an Australian supplier of home additions including patios, pergolas, verandahs, carports, gazebos and decks. Our dealer network provides customers with advice at every stage from design through to installation manuals.

With its long-lasting performance tested to Australia's harshest conditions, we offer COLORBOND® steel, owned and manufactured by BlueScope. Backed by a reputation of an Australian industry leader, you can be assured strength and style in every PATIOS WHOLESAL® product.

If you're looking to expand your living space by adding an outdoor patio covered with a shade COLORBOND® patio kits are the perfect solution since it is a perfect fit with your home and is strong, durable and easy to keep. With 22 different colors to pick from, it's never been so easy to create the style you desire.

With the five-layer design of COLORBOND® patio kits you can anticipate long-lasting performance, too. It is resistant to flaking, chipping and blistering. It is also corrosion resistant and non-combustible. It is also termite and fire resistant.

Patios constructed from COLORBOND® patio kits come with a variety of designs that allow for exceptional spanning capabilities that require only a few construction of rafters and posts. Roofs can be pitched or flat and specialist manufacturers are able to supply these as engineered systems with all the drawings needed and details to aid in the approval process of council. A lot of manufacturers can help you install your roof by a trained installer or offer the material in kit form to allow the homeowner to install it themselves'.
