About Us

Experienced Caterers Serving Edinburgh and the Surrounding Areas.

Ceri Wallace of Indulge Catering is an experienced chef and caterer, specialising in a wide range of cuisines. Ceri began her career working at a luxury hotel in London, working across all areas of service. This allowed her to develop an appreciation of good customer service and presentation, along with the craft, artistry and attention to detail required to create the perfect dish.

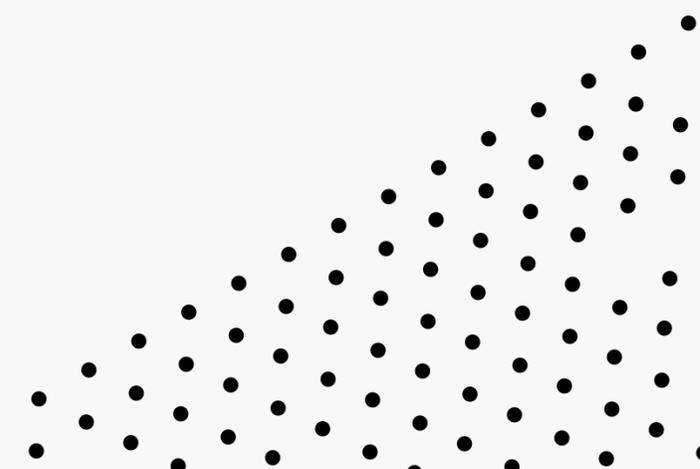

How To Get The Dining Out Experience At Home

we're surely all feeling serious withdrawal from dining out! Going to a restaurant with friends, family or your partner and enjoying a delicious meal and drinks is a favourite way to spend an evening

Decide What's On The Menu

Just as the first thing we decide when we're planning to dine out is always where exactly we're going, the first thing to plan with your home-dining experience is what sort of meal you're going to eat.

Any Drinks

Don't forget to think about what drinks you'd like with your meal! If you're attempting to replicate the feeling of dining in your favourite Italian restaurant, remember to choose a lovely wine or two to go with your food.
